Shubostar

Shubostar, a cosmic force in the electronic music galaxy, lights up dance floors across the globe. From her roots in South Korea to the vibrant scenes of Berlin throughout Thailand and Mexico, her musical journey is an odyssey of pulsating beats and cosmic disco rhythms.

Shubostar's sound is a dynamic blend of genres, deeply rooted in her own biography. Influenced by the minimalistic charm of early computer games and the rich textures of Italo disco, her sets are characterized by impulsive tempo changes inviting audiences to cosmic journeys. The intertwining of retro synthesizers and modern electronic beats creates a unique soundscape that defines her performances at renowned clubs and festivals worldwide. Her musical narrative is not just about the venues she graces but the immersive, rhythmic journey she crafts in each set. Her talent has shone brightly on prestigious stages worldwide including notable appearances at the the iconic PanoramaBar, Circoloco, Nuit Sonores, KappaFutur Festival, Fusion Festival, Garbicz Festival, Robert Johnson and Burning Man amongst many others. Her debut at Juventus Stadium, performing in front of fans before a Europa League semi-final, illustrates the breadth of her reach beyond subculture.

Recognized as one of DJ Mag's "Artists to Watch in 2023", Shubostar's ascent in the electronic music realm is meteoric. She provided mixes for HÖR, Keinemusik, Mixmag, Ransom Note, Mayan Warrior, Rinse FM and more. Her BBC Radio 1 Mix, alongside releases on esteemed labels like Live At Robert Johnson and fabric Records, reflects her growing influence. Collaborations with artists like TERR and DJ Boring, and performing alongside renowned acts like Solomun, TSHA, Sama Abdulhadi, WhoMadeWho and Mochakk, reveal her status as a sought-after talent.

Her unique sound resonates with the essence of electronic dance music – a solitary yet shared journey, where each beat connects listeners in their own universe of experience. Leading her label, uju Records, she explores new cosmic frontiers, maintaining a balance between artistic independence and collaborative creativity.

Shubostar remains a beacon of innovation and connection, her music a bridge between individuality and community.
