AUTECHRE

Autechre are the legendary English electronic music duo consisting of Rob Brown and Sean Booth. Formed in 1987, the duo are one of the most prominent acts in experimental electronic music. Their music has exhibited a gradual shift in aesthetic throughout their career, from their earlier work with clear roots in techno, electro and hip hop to later albums that are often considered more experimental in nature.

Autechre live is a classically pitch-dark mind-warping audio experience and is performed very rarely.
